Andover, everywhere and always, first, last,—the manly, straight-forward, sober, patriotic, New England Town.—PHILLIPS BROOKS.

$2.00 PER YEAR.

ANDOVER, MASS., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1892.

Vol. VI. No. 5.

People Say

THAT—Columbus discovered America.
THAT—As a patient waiter for a celebration in honor of the event, "Chris." is a success.
THAT—Numerous minor events have since been discovered, one of which is that Bicknell Bros. are hustlers in the clothing business.
THAT—The strictly all-wool Beaver Overcoats they are selling at $10 each have given their competitors heart failure.
THAT—The colors are blue, black and brown, and the blue is warranted fast color.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. buy their Underwear direct from the makers.
THAT—Their 75c and $1 Underwear are simply unmatchable.
THAT—Dunlap Hat wearers are now buying them at Bicknell Bros. instead of going to Boston for them.
THAT—The "College" Overcoat will be admired by students.
THAT—They are cut under length and that Andover students buy them at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—Shawl Collar and Hood Ulsters are "takers" with the young trade.
THAT—Mothers are thoroughly in love this season with the Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters in our Boys' Department.
THAT—Our Neckwear Department shines with new goods, and
THAT—If a man don't know what he wants "Dan" can tell him.
THAT—They get better served at Bicknell Bros. than in Boston.

THAT—The people are thoroughly convinced that they can buy cheaper, and
THAT—This issue of Bicknell Bros. Advertiser is a dandy, and
THAT—All who follow its direction will eventually wear diamonds.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. are good blowers and that they never fail to back up anything they advertise to do.
THAT—Our customers find in garments of our own make comfort, durability and economy.
THAT—The idea of introducing our salesmen to the public by producing hereina their likenesses is a novel one.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. Advertiser, 30,000 of which are now being printed, is the most interesting number they have issued.
THAT—The wholesale manner in which Bicknell Bros. have there introduced their salesmen to the public is a novel idea.
THAT—More room has been added to their Shirt Department to accommodate the increasing demand for Eagle Shirts.
THAT—Bicycle Riders buy their sweaters at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. have a larger stock of Ulsters than any other three stores in Lawrence combined, and
THAT—The special designs of their own with hoods and shawl collars, are "dandies."
THAT—Those Canvas Coats, lined with sheepskin tanned with the wool on, which they are selling at Bicknell Bros. would draw perspiration from the North Pole.

Young Men Say

THAT—In securing the agency for "Dunlap Hats" we have done the right thing.
THAT—Our Hat Department is now by far the largest, best managed and most satisfactory in Lawrence.
THAT—Our stock of Dress and Street Gloves is correct. Prices: $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00.
THAT—They get the best 50c neckties at Bicknell Bros., and that if they want something nicer that is crammed full of the latest style "Dan" always has it for them.
THAT—They get the latest styles in Linen Goods at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—When you talk about nice Undergarments, our competitors are not "in it."
THAT—There is really only one place in Lawrence to buy Night Shirts.
THAT—When they want the correct thing at a reasonable price they go to Bicknell Bros. after it.

Mothers Say

THAT—They always find the largest and best selected stock of Boys' Reefers at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—Our stock of Hood and Shawl Collar Ulsters for boys is just elegant.
THAT—Our stock of Boys' Cape Overcoats is the best in town.
THAT—After looking elsewhere for Boys' Hats, Caps, Gloves, Mittens and Underwear, our stock is the most satisfactory.

LOCAL NEWS.

If you see it in the Townsman, it's news to be relied upon; if it is news and so, you'll see it in the Townsman.
Mrs. J. M. Bean is still being called upon to inspect the Woman's Relief Corps in various places. Tuesday night she was at South Groveland. Next Tuesday she goes to Amesbury.
Miss Alice Rhodes of Chelsea is in town visiting.
The Burns Club holds its annual meeting in Abbott Village hall to-morrow night.
The public schools had one session yesterday on account of the storm.
If the young ladies of Abbot Academy had had their say, the republicans would not have been whipped. A vote showed 110 republicans to 83 democrats.
Arthur W. Stott, who has been employed at J. H. Campion's, is now located with P. J. Hannon, the tailor, as book-keeper.
Post 99, G. A. R., was given an official visit, last Friday night, by Inspector O'Connell of Lawrence. The work was well done and the Post was complimented. A collation was served at the close of the work.
J. W. Barnard's residence is now fitted with a very satisfactory system of steam heat. E. Pike did the work.
The scholars of the Pynchard school took a vote on president, Tuesday, with the following result: Harrison 82, Cleveland 24, Bidwell 5, Weaver 1.
The Democratic battalion, with the Andover Band, took a conspicuous part in the parade at Lawrence Monday night.
Tickets for the Andover-Exeter game to-morrow afternoon have been having a large sale at the Andover Bookstore.
The second in the series of neighborhood meetings held in Christ Church Parish will be at the house of Mr. Wm. Warden, on School Street, next Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m.
The lecture in the People's Course next Monday night should be borne in mind. It will be on "Curiosities of Legend and Superstition," by Mrs. Cora Stuart Wheeler.
At the October session of the Superior Court, in the list of absolute divorces granted by Judge Fessenden, one in favor of Emma C. Kelley of this town is noticed.
The Secretary would again call attention to the first meeting of the Farmers' Club in the Town Hall rear room to-night at 7:45. Dr. J. F. Winchester, V.S., is to be present and give a talk.
There is to be a grand fair in Pynchard School hall on the evenings of Dec. 8 and 9.
Three inches of snow Nov. 5. Mark it down in your 1892 diary.
T. Mural of the Seminary gave an interesting talk on Japan to the Y.P.S.C.E. of the Free Church last Sunday evening. After this service the society elected officers for the ensuing six months, as follows: President, Fred B. Goff; vice-president, Mabel Ashness; secretary, Martha Goff; treasurer, J. Percy Roberts.
William Jones of Arbroath, Scotland, Scotland, arrived in town Tuesday.
G. H. Appleton of Haverhill, a rubber merchant, and formerly manager of the Boston store of the Tyer Rubber Company, committed suicide by taking laudanum in a hotel at Providence, Wednesday.
The West Parish Juvenile Missionary Society will meet at the parsonage to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Those who have articles ready for the annual fair are requested to bring them.
The coffee party and entertainment at St. Augustine's Church Nov. 21, 22, 23 and 24 promises to be very enjoyable.
The ground is staked out for J. P. Eaton's new house on Central Street.
W. H. Higgins has several coaches and brakes engaged for to-morrow's foot-ball game.
The Grammar school eleven defeated the "kid" team of Phillips Academy last week 16 to 0.
The ladies of the Union Home Missionary Society will, on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 15, be addressed by Mr. T. B. Riggs from the Santee Agency, Neb. Mr. Riggs is a grandson of the veteran Missionary Riggs, and son of Dr. A. L. Riggs, now at Santee Agency. Of him Rev. C. J. Ryder writes, "He is a splendid earnest young man, and I know will stir the hearts of those who hear him in behalf of the red pagans on our western prairies. He has been all his life in the mission field, except when east for study, and he thoroughly understands the field." All who are interested in home missions are cordially invited to be present and listen to Mr. Riggs. Tuesday afternoon at 8 o'clock, in the lecture room of the South Church.

Free for 1892.

To all new Subscribers for the "Townsman" who send in $2.00, the paper will be sent free for 1892 and the one year's subscription dating from January 1st, 1892, to January 1st, 1894.

Geo. F. Holt is on a business trip to Proseque Isle, Me.

An effort is being made to have the new 4.30 express from Boston stop at Andover. It would accommodate many Andover persons.

L. A. Belknap left Wednesday morning for a Western trip. He will visit in Iowa and No. Dakota before he returns.

The president of the Relief Corps says Mrs. Richards of Medford will inspect the work of the W. R. C. Tuesday, Nov. 15th. A full attendance is desired. Come and hear our new piano!

Rev. F. A. Wilson of the Free Church will address the members of the Garfield Club in L. A. next Tuesday evening, at their rooms over Valpey's market.

The ten pounds of candy which the Democrats of Abbot Academy distributed among their Republican friends yesterday did very much to sweeten their bitterness.

The joint debate at Phillips Academy last Friday evening was won by the negative in the opinion of the judges, J. H. Ropes, F. L. Whipple and B. G. Gilman. The debaters were: C. P. Kitchel and W. T. B. Williams, representing Philo on the affirmative; W. B. Parker and W. F. Skerrye for the Forum on the negative. There was a large attendance.

Prof. Freze has been engaged to have charge of the singing at the Chapel. He conducted a service there recently.

Phillips Academy Boy Shot.

Carl Rudolph Schultz, of New York, a student at Phillips Academy, while out hunting, Wednesday afternoon, was accidentally shot in the thigh by one of his companions, who it appears was climbing over a wall with his gun at full cock. The result was an ugly flesh wound, which is serious without being dangerous.

School Notes.

Miss Carrie Dean teacher at the Ballardvale school has been absent from her duties this week on account of a sprained ankle. She hopes to return next week. Meanwhile Miss Susie Meldrum has been substituting there.

Supt. Baldwin is to-day attending the New England Superintendent's convention in Boston.

Wednesday afternoon Supt. Baldwin spoke to the teachers on "The various methods and devices used to secure better results in reading."

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary.

Twenty-five years of happy and successful married life is an event of interest to those who are permitted to participate in such an occasion. This week a prominent and well known Andover family reached this stage in life, last Monday being the twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Peter D. Smith. The event was remembered by a delightful gathering at the handsome residence of Mr. Smith, where about 100 relatives and intimate friends came together and shared in the joy of this pleasant occasion. Congratulations were showered upon Mr. and Mrs. Smith and the hope expressed that they might be permitted to enjoy many more years of that prosperity which had evidently attended them for the past twenty-five years. In all these good wishes the TOWNSMAN would join heartily. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers. The Columbian Orchestra of Lawrence furnished music during the evening. There were many handsome presents.

Andover Man's Loss.

Many friends of H. S. Robinson, who resides on Pynchard Avenue, will sympathize with him in the loss to his business interests last Saturday night. The boiler works belonging to the firm of H. S. Robinson & Co., on Border Street, Boston, were totally destroyed by fire on the above mentioned night. The fire broke out about 10.30 and spread rapidly, destroying several other places. The building containing the boiler works, together with its contents, was a total loss. The loss to H. S. Robinson & Co. is said to be about $30,000, with an insurance of $25,000.

Election Bets.

If you must bet on the election let the bet be a hat; and if a hat let it be the best which of course is "The Dunlap." Bicknell Bros. of Lawrence are agents for Lawrence, Andover and Methuen.

Foot-Ball.

Although there were three inches of snow on the ground, the Yale Freshman eleven lined up against the Phillips team last Saturday afternoon. Andover really began to play foot-ball and rolled up 24 points, while Yale scored a goose egg. The presence of Capt. Hopkins in the game seemed to give them new life. The game was quite encouraging to Andover supporters.

To-morrow afternoon at 2.30 on the campus will occur the great event of the fall season at Phillips Academy, the annual foot-ball contest between Andover and Exeter. Next to the election this had been the most talked of subject. Several thousand people will probably witness the struggle between these two great preparatory schools, and as usual there will be some fine equipages. The Exeter men are said to be confident of winning and this has been a general feeling over the country, but Andover says nothing and keeps on working and hoping for success. Good judges say that the teams are evenly enough matched to make an exciting contest. The large scores run up against Andover have raised Exeter's hopes, but Andover stock has gone up lately. However the TOWNSMAN extends its best wishes to Phillips Andover and hopes she may again be victorious. The admission to the grounds will be 50 cents, grand stands 25 cents extra, carriages $1.00.

Andover has won eight out of twelve contests in foot-ball with Exeter.

Democratic Rally.

The Democrats held their last rally before election in the Town Hall last Friday night. There was a fair attendance, including quite a number of ladies and Republicans. One of the appointed speakers, S. D. Charles, disappointed the committee, and did not appear, but Col. John P. Sweeney, the other speaker, kindly consented to make a longer address than he intended, and the audience seemed well pleased with the change. John J. Sweeney was the presiding officer, and after an exhortation to Democrats to come out and vote, he introduced the speaker, who talked for an hour and a half on the tariff, force bill, and other campaign issues. He paid a glowing tribute to Mr. Stevens. It was considered a very good address from a Democratic standpoint.

Knox and Beard address Republicans.

There was general disappointment last Saturday night when it was found that the parade of the local and out of town companies would have to be dropped on account of the wretched condition of the streets. However, the rally was held and was a success, there being quite a large audience present. After several selections by the Andover Band, Chairman George S. Cole of the Republican Town Committee introduced Hon. Alanson W. Beard, collector of the port of Boston. Mr. Beard occupied his time in talking on the tariff and bank issues. He gave figures showing the business prosperity of the country, and setting at naught many of the misstatements made by the "boy governor." It was a logical and convincing speech. After Mr. Beard had finished the chairman called on William Odlin, who had a good word to say for the Republican party.

Mr. Knox made one of his best speeches of the campaign, his remarks being most wholly on the benefits the country has reaped under protection.

Frye Village.

Miss Clara K. Rowe has returned to her home at Campton, N.H.
John Kydd, who has been very ill with scarlet fever, is well on the road to recovery.

The village school took a vote for president Tuesday and the Republican candidate had a large plurality.

The building occupied by Annie Mitchell for a store has been much improved. It has been shingled, a new platform and other repairs made.

John L. Morrison and family and W. H. Morrison of Merrimack spent several days here this week.

There was quite a lively blaze in the dry house at the Smith and Dove Mills Monday evening about 6.25. The fire was caused by the floor becoming overheated. The yarn is spread upon the floor and the hot air comes from below to dry it. At this time it is supposed the yarn was laid too closely and the hot air, not being allowed to escape, ignited the wood in the floor. The mill apparatus and men were sufficient to extinguish the fire. $1000 will cover the loss on the yarn and building.

It is not what we say
But what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that makes it sell, and has given it such a firm and lasting hold upon the confidence of the people.

Childhood.

BY MARION UPHAM, TEN YEARS OLD.

In a green meadow,
Not far away,
Three pretty children play,
Day after day.
When the summer breeze
Blow soft and cool,
Hand in hand they wander
Down to the pool.
They bare their little feet
And in the pool they wade:
Three happier little children
No'er in this world were made.
O! the sunny hours of childhood
Are like a happy dream,
Growing up as like awaking,
And things are what they seem.

Letter from Jerusalem.

The following extract from a private letter may be of interest to our readers:

The railroad is now an accomplished fact, and yesterday it was given over to the company. The opening exercises were rather peculiar. The Representative of the Sultan, a grand Pasha with his attendants, was here, also all the officers and engineers who belonged to the road, and photographers and newspaper correspondents, etc. Paul Nadar, the most celebrated photographer in Paris, came bringing mammoth plates to photograph everything, and he finds my dark room very convenient in preparing his plates for work.

On Monday morning occurred the "religious exercises," as they were called by the natives and Turks. The Priest or Imman read an address which he had prepared, the nature of which I do not know, except that it was probably religious and it closed with a prayer. As soon as he said "Amen" the Turkish officials cut the throats of three sheep on the platform—they called it "a sacrifice"—and took off the skins and cut up the bodies and gave them to the poor people. Mr. E. said he "guessed the poor people did not get much of the flesh, he guessed the soldiers got it all; they were the poor people who got the meat."

The station was covered with Turkish flags with French flags sprinkled in here and there, and so was our hotel. The road between the Jaffa gate and the station was filled with carriages and people coming and going all day. At night was the grand opening dinner to which one and fifty invitations were issued by the Governor. There had been erected two tents of great length, rather they were structures of wood, like long seaside barracks, covered with fancy cloth. One side of the long tent-house was closed, the other was open for air. Under these two long, wide tables extended the entire length of the tents, so there was ample room for the guests and for serving. In the centre of the table sat the dignitaries. At one the Pasha from Constantinople and on his right and left respectively the two Consuls General, French and Austrian; next them the English and American Consuls; opposite the Pasha was the Governor of Jerusalem with the military Governor on one side and an important Frenchman on the other. The president of the road, a Frenchman of course, presided at the other table with dignitaries stretching each way from him.

The dinner was most elaborate with many courses; fruit, flowers and wines in abundance. There were great quantities of champagne drunk. Many of the Turks and Arabs, like myself, took no wine, and when they drank to the health of the Sultan it was rather funny, not half done, because they are not up in public dinners. All rose at such times and those drank who chose, the rest touched their glasses or let them stand, not touching them at all.

If the matter of drinking the Sultan's health was a little mixed, the matter of speech making was a farce. Our governor arose and read in a low, faint voice one page written in Turkish. A person six feet from him could not hear a word he said. Then the secretary of the Governor stood beside the Pasha from Constantinople and read something in French in a low voice, only a trifle louder than the Governor's. A faint cheer from a dozen persons followed, and the health of the Sultan was drunk. The French consul read a page and a half on behalf of the diplomatic and consular corps. The president of the railroad came across from his seat and put his head in the little group around our governor, and said a few words, and this was the nearest to a speech of all that occurred. In fact there was no speech making. All that element which makes a dinner in England or America, was wanting.

We had a band, of course, and they began to play while the Governor was reading, and people tried to hush them, but they did not step until some one ran out of the tent and clapped his hands and made them stop. This happened twice, and was the only ray of fun during the entire evening. We sat down at half past six o'clock and got through about half past nine.

A thousand people stood outside watching and listening and were greatly disappointed that there were no fireworks at the close. The line is 54 miles in length, and the usual time occupied by passenger trains will be 3 1-2 hours. Jerusalem, Sept. 28, '92. S. M.

Ministers and Mobs.

This is the alliterative title of an article by Prof. G. Frederick Wright formerly of this town, in the October Bibliotheca Sacra. He makes serious charges against many of his fellow-clergymen:

Without adequate knowledge of the laws of business or of the exigencies of modern industrial enterprises they have united to a lamentable extent in blind denunciation of corporations and capitalists and have been among the most active in disseminating erroneous views as to the rights of labor, while they have not had the courage to preach with proper emphasis to laboring men upon their duties and responsibilities.

To a great extent preachers have neglected to remind their hearers of the repeated and explicit injunction of the Mosaic law that the judge is "not to favor a poor man in his cause" [Ex. 23:3]. While constantly emphasizing the admonition of Moses to the judges, "not to honor the person of the mighty," they have too habitually passed over the equally solemn admonition, "not to respect the person of the poor," but in all cases to judge in righteousness [Lev. 19:15], so that it has almost come to be a question in the public mind whether capital has any rights which laboring men are bound to respect. In this growing sentiment lies a most threatening evil. . . . By all just rights the employees of a railroad assume some of the moral responsibilities of a common carrier. The idea that, in violation of contract, railroad men have a right to strike for the redress of their individual grievances is monstrous. Railroad employees who can conspire with others to disarrange the whole business of the country, and in violation of their own contract, in an effort to keep non-union men from filling their places, are public enemies, and clergymen ought to have courage enough to tell them so. The contract of an employee ought to be as sacred as that of the employer. The misguided sentimentalism and culpable cowardice of the ministry are largely responsible for the mental and moral perversions which have produced the lamentable outbreaks of the past few months. . . .

In the improvement of public sentiment the ministry, it is clear, can be successful only as they have some real light to shed. The greatest danger is that, on sociological questions, they will become socialists and charlatans, accepting crude theories of social reform as the great desideratum, without due comprehension of the complicated nature of the questions involved. We may well look with apprehension upon the efforts to make political economists and social reformers out of theological students. A little knowledge on these as on all other subjects is a dangerous thing, unless the possessor of it knows how little it is. In general, we may say that lawyers and judges and business men and statesmen of large caliber are the ones to whom must be intrusted the main burden and responsibility of this delicate task of readjustment. For the most part, the clergy will have enough to do in building up the true moral fiber of their young men and women, in rousing their dormant spiritual energies and in bringing them true comfort and guidance under the inevitable sorrows and disappointments which are the common lot of humanity in the world.—Congregationalist.

Give the Boys a Trade.

Go where you will and you will find youths entering manhood without any equipment for the struggle before them. Tens of thousands of them hope to become merchants when they have no aptitude whatever for commercial affairs, and are doomed to lives of a bitter toil and grinding poverty. This ought not to be. Everybody in America is justly entitled to a trade, and he ought to have the chance to master one. Many sons of poor parents and many orphan boys are compelled to forego the inestimable benefits of apprenticeship, and these ought to be assisted by wise philanthropy, but very many more fail to improve the great opportunity of becoming a skilled worker, and so drift into the laboring army to become helpless victims of poverty all their lives. Boys in town and country, learn a trade. It will be your surest and best friend through life. Parents, in whatever else you come short, don't fail to see to this matter. You will be insuring the happiness and comfort of their sons, the welfare of those who come after them, and discharging a solemn duty you owe to society and the country.—B. L. E. Journal.

HAVERHILL'S INDUSTRIES.

Capital of $8,000,000 Invested in Manufacturing Plants.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The census office issued a bulletin giving statistics of the manufacturing industries of Haverhill, Mass. In 1890 the statistics of Haverhill were included in those of Essex county, therefore no comparative statement can be made. The summary for the year 1890 is as follows:

Number of establishments reported, 722; number industries reported, 64; capital invested, $7,925,810; hands employed, 14,988; wages paid, $3,815,474; cost of materials used, $13,561,562; value of product, $23,340,361. The figures for Essex county in 1890, after subtracting those for Lawrence, Lynn and Salem, are as follows:

Number of establishments reported, 1108; capital invested, $13,145,747; number of hands employed, 26,549; wages paid, $9,074,904; value of materials used, $30,262,183; value of product, $41,346,606.

WILLIAM BROWN'S FATE.

Beaten by Toughs and Then Laid on a Track to Be Mangled.

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 7.—The engineer on a north-bound freight train on the Naugatuck road saw a man's head across the rails at the crossing near the race track at Derby, but he could not stop his engine before it struck the body. The man was killed. The medical examiner found wounds that indicated that the man had been beaten into insensibility, probably by toughs who attended a prize fight at Ansonia Saturday night. The man was William Brown, aged 50 years, a Naugatuck track walker, whose route is between High Rock grove and Derby.

THE BORDEN CASE AGAIN.

Special Charge to the Grand Jury Asked for but is Denied.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 8.—The first hint at the Borden case came in the superior court when Mr. Adams, for Miss Borden, addressed the court, asking that special instructions should be given, the grand jury not to be influenced by hearsay evidence or newspaper paragraphs. District Attorney Knowlton promptly replied in substance that he believed that he could be relied upon to properly conduct the case before the grand jury. After hearing both of them, the court decided that no special instructions for the grand jury were necessary.

An Alleged Mail Robber.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Nov. 8.—Robert A. Alby was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Galloup on a charge of robbing the United States mail. Alby is only 17 years old, and had been employed by Martin C. Hiltz. He is said to have taken from his employer's mail a check for $25, which was afterward cashed.

A Big Blaze.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Fire started on the wharf of the Boston Tow Boat company Saturday night, and burned Robinson's Marine repairing shop, B. H. Murray's planing mill, Towle & Foster's shop, Graham & Cameron's shop, McHugh & Snow's factory and H. Drake & Sons' shop. The loss will amount to $300,000.

To Prison for Life.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Massimo Repacci was sentenced to imprisonment for life. He pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree. His victim was Luigi Dell'Orfano, who was shot in July last, after a dispute over cards. This was the first murder case which has come up in Suffolk county superior court.

Catarrrh, Heart Failure, Paralysis of the Throat

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and

Could Scarcely Walk

I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and I could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been

At Death's Door

but was entirely cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. After talking with Mr. Smith, I concluded to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken two bottles I felt very much better. I have continued taking it, and am now feeling excellent. I thank God, and

and my wife for my restoration to perfect health." HARVEY HEED, Laceyville, O.

Childhood.

BY MARION UPHAM, TEN YEARS OLD.

In a green meadow,
Not far away,
Three pretty children play,
Day after day.
When the summer breezes
Blow soft and cool,
Hand in hand they wander
Down to the pool.
They bare their little feet
And in the pool they wade:
Three happier little children
Ne'er in this world were made.
O! the sunny hours of childhood
Are like a happy dream,
Growing up as like awaking,
And things are what they seem.

Letter from Jerusalem.

The following extract from a private letter may be of interest to our readers:

The railroad is now an accomplished fact, and yesterday it was given over to the company. The opening exercises were rather peculiar. The Representative of the Sultan, a grand Pasha with his attendants, was here, also all the officers and engineers who belonged to the road, and photographers and newspaper correspondents, etc. Paul Nadar, the most celebrated photographer in Paris, came bringing mammoth plates to photograph everything, and he finds my dark room very convenient in preparing his plates for work.

On Monday morning occurred the "religious exercises," as they were called by the natives and Turks. The Priest or Imman read an address which he had prepared, the nature of which I do not know, except that it was probably religious and it closed with a prayer. As soon as he said "Amen" the Turkish officials cut the throats of three sheep on the platform—they called it "a sacrifice"—and took off the skins and cut up the bodies and gave them to the poor people. Mr. E. said he "guessed the poor people did not get much of the flesh, he guessed the soldiers got it all; they were the poor people who got the meat."

The station was covered with Turkish flags with French flags sprinkled in here and there, and so was our hotel. The road between the Jaffa gate and the station was filled with carriages and people coming and going all day. At night was the grand opening dinner to which one and fifty invitations were issued by the Governor. There had been erected two tents of great length, rather they were structures of wood, like long seaside barracks, covered with fancy cloth. One side of the long tent-house was closed, the other was open for air. Under these two long, wide tables extended the entire length of the tents, so there was ample room for the guests and for serving. In the centre of the table sat the dignitaries. At one the Pasha from Constantinople and on his right and left respectively the two Consuls General, French and Austrian; next them the English and American Consuls; opposite the Pasha was the Governor of Jerusalem with the military Governor on one side and an important Frenchman on the other. The president of the road, a Frenchman of course, presided at the other table with dignitaries stretching each way from him.

The dinner was most elaborate with many courses; fruit, flowers and wines in abundance. There were great quantities of champagne drunk. Many of the Turks and Arabs, like myself, took no wine, and when they drank to the health of the Sultan it was rather funny, not half done, because they are not up in public dinners. All rose at such times and those drank who chose, the rest touched their glasses or let them stand, not touching them at all.

If the matter of drinking the Sultan's health was a little mixed, the matter of speech making was a farce. Our governor arose and read in a low, faint voice one page written in Turkish. A person six feet from him could not hear a word he said. Then the secretary of the Governor stood beside the Pasha from Constantinople and read something in French in a low voice, only a trifle louder than the Governor's. A faint cheer from a dozen persons followed, and the health of the Sultan was drunk. The French consul read a page and a half on behalf of the diplomatic and consular corps. The president of the railroad came across from his seat and put his head in the little group around our governor, and said a few words, and this was the nearest to a speech of all that occurred. In fact there was no speech making. All that element which makes a dinner in England or America, was wanting.

We had a band, of course, and they began to play while the Governor was reading, and people tried to hush them, but they did not stop until some one ran out of the tent and clapped his hands and made them stop. This happened twice, and was the only ray of fun during the entire evening. We sat down at half past six o'clock and got through about half past nine.

A thousand people stood outside watching and listening and were greatly disappointed that there were no fireworks at the close. The line is 54 miles in length, and the usual time occupied by passenger trains will be 3 1-2 hours.

Jerusalem, Sept. 28, '92. S. M.

Ministers and Mobs.

This is the alliterative title of an article by Prof. G. Frederick Wright formerly of this town, in the October Bibliotheca Sacra. He makes serious charges against many of his fellow-clergymen.

Without adequate knowledge of the laws of business or of the exigencies of modern industrial enterprises they have united to a lamentable extent in blind denunciation of corporations and capitalists and have been among the most active in disseminating erroneous views as to the rights of labor, while they have not had the courage to preach with proper emphasis to laboring men upon their duties and responsibilities. To a great extent preachers have neglected to remind their hearers of the repeated and explicit injunction of the Mosaic law that the judge is "not to favor a poor man in his cause" [Ex. 23:3]. While constantly emphasizing the admonition of Moses to the judges, "not to honor the person of the mighty," they have too habitually passed over the equally solemn admonition, "not to respect the person of the poor," but in all cases to judge in righteousness [Lev. 19:15], so that it has almost come to be a question in the public mind whether capital has any rights which laboring men are bound to respect. In this growing sentiment lies a most threatening evil. . . . By all just rights the employees of a railroad assume some of the moral responsibilities of a common carrier. The idea that, in violation of contract, railroad men have a right to strike for the redress of their individual grievances is monstrous. Railroad employees who can conspire with others to disarrange the whole business of the country, and in violation of their own contract, in an effort to keep non-union men from filling their places, are public enemies, and clergymen ought to have courage enough to tell them so. The contract of an employee ought to be as sacred as that of the employer. The misguided sentimentalism and culpable cowardice of the ministry are largely responsible for the mental and moral perversions which have produced the lamentable outbreaks of the past few months. . . .

In the improvement of public sentiment the ministry, it is clear, can be successful only as they have some real light to shed. The greatest danger is that, on sociological questions, they will become socialists and charlatans, accepting crude theories of social reform as the great desideratum, without due comprehension of the complicated nature of the questions involved. We may well look with apprehension upon the efforts to make political economists and social reformers out of theological students. A little knowledge on these as on all other subjects is a dangerous thing, unless the possessor of it knows how little it is. In general, we may say that lawyers and judges and business men and statesmen of large caliber are the ones to whom must be intrusted the main burden and responsibility of this delicate task of readjustment. For the most part, the clergy will have enough to do in building up the true moral fiber of their young men and women, in rousing their dormant spiritual energies and in bringing them true comfort and guidance under the inevitable sorrows and disappointments which are the common lot of humanity in the world.—Congregationalist.

Give the Boys a Trade.

Go where you will and you will find youths entering manhood without any equipment for the struggle before them. Tens of thousands of them hope to become merchants when they have no aptitude whatever for commercial affairs, and are doomed to lives of a bitter toil and grinding poverty. This ought not to be. Everybody in America is justly entitled to a trade, and he ought to have the chance to master one. Many sons of poor parents and many orphan boys are compelled to forego the inestimable benefits of apprenticeship, and these ought to be assisted by wise philanthropy, but very many more fail to improve the great opportunity of becoming a skilled worker, and so drift into the laboring army to become helpless victims of poverty all their lives. Boys in town and country, learn a trade. It will be your surest and best friend through life. Parents, in whatever else you come short, don't fail to see to this matter. You will be insuring the happiness and comfort of their sons, the welfare of these who come after them, and discharging a solemn duty you owe to society and the country.—B. L. E. Journal.

HAVERHILL'S INDUSTRIES.

Capital of $8,000,000 Invested in Manufacturing Plants.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8.—The census office issued a bulletin giving statistics of the manufacturing industries of Haverhill, Mass. In 1890 the statistics of Haverhill were included in those of Essex county; therefore no comparative statement can be made. The summary for the year 1890 is as follows:

Number of establishments reported, 722; number industries reported, 64; capital invested, $7,925,510; hands employed, 14,988; wages paid, $1,815,474; cost of materials used, $13,561,592; value of product, $23,340,881. The figures for Essex county in 1890, after subtracting those for Lawrence, Lynn and Salem, are as follows:

Number of establishments reported, 1158; capital invested, $18,145,747; number of hands employed, 26,549; wages paid, $9,074,804; value of materials used, $36,262,133; value of product, $41,846,606.

WILLIAM BROWN'S FATE.

Beaten by Toughs and Then Laid on a Track to Be Mangled.

WATERBURY, Conn., Nov. 7.—The engineer on a north-bound freight train on the Naugatuck road saw a man's head across the rails at the crossing near the race track at Derby, but he could not stop his engine before it struck the body. The man was killed. The medical examiner found wounds that indicated that the man had been beaten into insensibility, probably by toughs who attended a prize fight at Ansonia Saturday night. The man was William Brown, aged 50 years, a Naugatuck track walker, whose route is between High Rock grove and Derby.

THE BORDEN CASE AGAIN.

Special Charge to the Grand Jury Asked for but is Denied.

TAUNTON, Mass., Nov. 8.—The first hint at the Borden case came in the superior court when Mr. Adams, for Miss Borden, addressed the court, asking that special instructions should be given the grand jury not to be influenced by hearsay evidence or newspaper paragraphs. District Attorney Knowlton promptly replied in substance that he believed that he could be relied upon to properly conduct the case before the grand jury. After hearing both of them, the court decided that no special instructions for the grand jury were necessary.

An Alleged Mail Robber.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Nov. 8.—Robert A. Alby was arrested by Deputy United States Marshal Galloup on a charge of robbing the United States mail. Alby is only 17 years old, and had been employed by Martin C. Hiltz. He is said to have taken from his employer's mail a check for $35, which was afterward cashed.

BOSTON, Nov. 7.—Fire started on the wharf of the Boston Low Boat company Saturday night, and burned Robinson's Marine repairing shop, B. H. Murray's planing mill, Towle & Foster's shop, Graham & Cameron's shop, McHugh & Snow's factory and H. Drake & Sons' shop. The loss will amount to $300,000.

To Prison for Life.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Massimo Repucci was sentenced to imprisonment for life. He pleaded guilty to the charge of murder in the second degree. His victim was Luigi Dell'Orfano, who was shot in July last, after a dispute over cards. This was the first murder case which has come up in Suffolk county superior court.

"I Thank God and Hood's Sarsaparilla for Perfect Health."

"Gentlemen: For the benefit of suffering humanity I wish to state a few facts: For several years I have suffered from catarrh and heart failure, getting so bad I could not work and

could scarcely walk

I had a very bad spell of paralysis of the throat some time ago. My throat seemed closed and I could not swallow. The doctors said it was caused by heart failure, and gave medicine, which I took according to directions, but it did not seem to do me any good. My wife urged me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla, telling me of Mr. Joseph C. Smith, who had been

Last Tuesday's Election.

NATIONAL.

The election of Tuesday last was one of the most remarkable in our national annals, or indeed in the history of the world. Never before anywhere did 11,000,000 of freemen cast their suffrages for their rulers; and the serenity of the proceedings was as noteworthy as their magnitude. There was during the most of the campaign very little excitement among the people; the voting on election-day was not attended by rioting or bloodshed in any section, and the result is universally accepted, even by those most seriously disappointed, with philosophical good-nature. This manifestation of self-control is a great credit to our republican institutions.

The Democrats have chosen their candidates by a sweeping majority, though the precise status of the electoral college is now open to doubt in some states. Out of 444 votes, to be cast by the electors in December, Cleveland and Stevenson are assured of 250, and this may eventually creep up to 300. Weaver, the People's party candidate, has carried about 30 votes, while the Prohibitionists as usual have drawn a blank. This leaves Harrison and Reid in a decided minority.

The states of New York and Indiana, which were considered doubtful, on account of the residence of the presidential and vice-presidential candidates there, are naturally Democratic, but four years ago they were carried for Harrison. Now they have gone over to the other side, together with Illinois. These three great commonwealths alone would have settled the matter; but when even loyal old Ohio wavers and trembles in the balance, it begins to look like a new era in politics.

The national House of Representatives will have a good working majority for the Democrats, but not so large as two years ago. If, however, the Senate also becomes reconstructed on the same lines, as seems possible, the administration will be in the hands of that party for the first time since 1860, and some interesting developments may be expected.

MASSACHUSETTS.

The Old Bay State came up smiling on Tuesday, with a fair day and a great vote. She cast about 15,000 plurality for Harrison and Reid, but by a strange freak of inconsistency, defeated Lieut. Gov. Haile, on the same ticket, by a very slender plurality. The exact figures cannot be stated at this hour, but Gov. Russell has undoubtedly won his third term against great odds—a circumstance that elevates him into national prominence and opens a vista of promotion that is well-nigh boundless. The rest of the Republican ticket is chosen, and the Republicans have also gained several congressmen and in the Legislature. Our delegation at Washington will stand 10 Republicans, 2 Democrats, 1 Independent Democrat. The congressmen re-elected are Walker of Worcester, Stevens of North Andover, Cogswell of Salem, Lodge of Nahant, O'Neil of Boston, Morse of Canton, Randall of New Bedford. The new congressmen are Wright of North Adams, Gillett of Springfield, Apsley of Hudson, McCall of Winchester, McEitrick of Boston, Draper of Hopedale. The complexion of both branches of the Legislature is such as to guarantee a Republican successor to U. S. Senator Dawes, next March.

REFLECTIONS.

The causes of the overturn in the national administration do not lie upon the surface. Prest. Harrison has been cautious and conservative, commanding respect abroad and ensuring prosperity at home. The Democratic House of Representatives has done nothing to make itself attractive to the country as a whole. But the foreign population has almost universally joined the ranks of the Democrats, as in New York and Illinois, and the million or more of young men, who for the first time this year voted for a President, appear to have divided unequally in favor of the same organization.

We do not feel disposed to whimper at the result. The incoming President has been tried once, and the nation survived his former regime. It will doubtless continue its march of progress till 1897 at least.

In a Bad Way.

The surprising report is made, on the authority of the secretary of a missionary society in Vermont, that more than one-half of the population of that state do not attend church. The precise figures are 150,000 who go regularly to divine worship, and 184,000 who do not. The majority of these latter live more than two miles from any church edifice. Considering the traditional character of the Vermonters, who have borne a reputation for integrity, morality and religiousness in general for many generations, these revelations are unexpected to the outside world. Is New England on the road to the condition which came upon Asia Minor, after the Gospel had been established there on apparently permanent foundations? Perhaps it is not, after all, the first duty of theological students to go to Africa and neglect the needs of their native land.

It must have cost our good President a pang to issue, just at this time of his bereavement, the annual proclamation for Thanksgiving, Nov. 24. One clause in the document reveals this—"He has given His grace to the sorrowing." In many homes there will be a vacant chair, in which a year ago sat a beloved form at the festal board; but if all shall be sustained with the same Christian hope and faith as the chief-magistrate of our land, the tears will not be allowed to spoil the traditional associations of the day.

The Boston papers report the remarkable fact, that Joseph Jefferson recently took $25,000 for eight performances in that city—one of the most successful short engagements of a dramatic nature on record. The popularity of this genial comedian unquestionably gained from his autobiographical sketches in the Century Magazine, a year or two ago. But $25,000 for eight performances!—what would Shakspeare and Ben Jonson have thought of that?

At the recent meeting of the American Board in Chicago, Rev. Dr. Alexander McKenzie of Cambridge was chosen a member of the prudential committee, in place of Rev. C. A. Dickinson, who declined a re-election. Dr. McKenzie, after mature deliberation, has decided not to accept the office, because (like Mr. Dickinson) he seriously disapproves of the policy of the majority of the committee in regard to sending out missionaries. The following language which he employs is frank, manly and agreeable to Andover sympathizers:

"The influence of these methods upon the young men and young women from among whom our missionaries are to come is often harmful, while some are withheld from the service who should be cordially accepted and promptly sent in this ministry of grace. I am too closely connected with the preparation of men and women for this ministry, not to feel the seriousness of this policy of restraint."

The Local Election.

It is a matter of congratulation for every voter in Andover, that over ninety per cent of the total registered voters came to the polls and voted. The managers of both parties in town are to be commended for their well conducted campaign, that produced this agreeable result.

The manner in which the voting was conducted in our local precinct deserves some honest criticism and in fact has already received it. Both senior wardens are most excellent politicians but there were times when they almost entirely forgot their duties as wardens in their party zeal and the result was not conducive to that quiet which the Australian ballot was designed to give to voting places. Let us have less politics and more dignity another time.

Prizes for Punctard.

The TOWNSMAN English prizes have awakened so much interest among the public school scholars, that we have decided to make another offer for the scholars of Punctard.

A prize of $10 will be given to the pupil in Punctard who shall write the best essay on a subject to be announced soon by principal Baldwin and under rules to be made by him.

Ten dollars for the best essay from Punctard. Ten dollars for the best essay from any Public School. Five dollars for the second best essay from any Public School. All about the competition may be learned from our teachers.

The Local Election.

STEVENS, CARTER AND SMITH ELECTED.

Tuesday was an ideal day for election, the weather being mild and in every way conducive to a large vote and there surely was a large vote in this town, 864 votes being cast in Precinct 1 and 198 in Precinct 2, 1062 out of a total of 1179 registered. Last year 876 votes were cast. The voting began promptly at 9 o'clock and it kept up pretty steadily until the polls closed at 4.29. The largest rush was from 12 to 2.

Again there were a good many blanks on the ballots and the way some of them were marked would puzzle a Philadelphia lawyer to tell in what a man believed. Some were not marked at all and one was marked so that it counted only for the amendment, while another marked all the presidential and gubernatorial candidates, and so on.

On the amendment question the blanks ran very high, owing either to an unintelligent understanding of the question or a lack of desire to vote on it.

The counting began about 11 o'clock, and it was 9.15 when warden Barnett Rogers announced the result to the many anxious listeners who had gathered in the Town Hall and waited patiently. The local result was as follows:

Stevens' Plurality, 1773.

As near as can be found out at this time of writing the total vote of the fifth district for congressmen was as follows: Stevens, 14,418; Knox, 12,645. Plurality for Stevens, 1773. In all places, except Wilmington and Woburn, Stevens ran ahead of both the national and state Democratic ticket.

Election Notes.

Thomas Murphy furnished refreshments for the election officers at 6 o'clock.

President Harrison received the most votes in this town of any republican candidate, 648. Of the democratic candidates, Moses T. Stevens had the largest number, 390.

The town committees of both parties worked hard to get out a full vote, and the result must be very gratifying.

A large crowd stood on Main Street in front of the Elm Club rooms Tuesday evening until a late hour, watching the returns as they were thrown upon the screen on Barnard's building. Cheers followed each announcement. Wm. G. Goldsmith kindly used his stereopticon and when there were no returns, he showed some pretty views. Advertisements of various town business men were also shown. The club rooms were filled with members and friends, and during the evening a lunch was furnished. The affair was a success and a credit to the club. Returns were received up to 1.30 A. M.

During the forenoon objection was made to the carrying of marked sample ballots, which were probably furnished by the state committees, behind the rails. Quite a hot discussion ensued, the democrats claiming it could be done and the republicans claiming the opposite. Legal advice ruled that it was wrong and it was pretty well stopped.

Vote of Lawrence.

Below is given a summary of the vote in Lawrence for the principal officers:

PRESIDENT.—Harrison 3362; Cleveland, 3475; Bidwell, 113.

GOVERNOR.—Haile, 2949; Russell, 3758; Hamlin, 115.

CONGRESSMAN.—Knox, 2863; Stevens, 3864.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.—Moody, 3357; Burke, 3296.

SHERIFF.—Johnson, 3052; Hoyt, 3613.

Vote at Phillips Academy.

Tuesday morning a vote of the Phillips Academy students and teachers was taken, each one depositing a ballot as he passed out of chapel. It resulted as follows: Total vote, 390; Harrison, 274; Cleveland, 104; Bidwell, 12.

Election Day at Abbot Academy.

Election day was duly observed at Abbot Academy, according to the form of procedure prescribed under the Australian ballot law of this state. The Academy hall was converted into a polling place, resembling in essential details that of the town, and the proper officers were chosen to conduct the voting. The registration of the school was 148; total number of votes polled, 141. The presidential vote stood: Harrison and Reid, 110; Cleveland and Stevenson, 30; Bidwell and Cranfill, 1. On the vote for governor, Russell gained three votes additional, and for lieutenant-governor Shields received one, in both cases diminishing the republican majority. One hundred and forty-one young women are wide awake to their country's interests this week, at least.

Joseph S. Holt.

The death of Mr. Holt, on Nov. 4, was briefly announced as the TOWNSMAN went to press last week, but some further notice should be made of a man so well known to our older residents and so thoroughly identified with the family history of the town. Mr. Holt was the son of Capt. Joseph Holt and Lydia Jones, who in 1803 joined a company of emigrants from Andover to the District of Maine, where Uriah Holt, Esq., a native of Andover and a famous surveyor, was Governor Phillips's agent in laying out the lands. "Oxford Plantation" was incorporated as Albany in 1803, and in that town J. S. Holt was born, Feb. 5, 1808. When he was nine years old the family returned to Andover, living for a time in Ballard Vale, the father working on the Seminary farm and often spending the night on the Hill, so as to ring the early morning bell of the Seminary. About 1820 they removed to the place which has since then been in the family, and where Mr. Holt died. Capt. Holt died in 1860, at the age of eighty.

The son worked for a time for Dea. Amos Abbot, for a year with Dr. Kittredge of the North Parish, was clerk in D. and J. Shipman's store on the Hill, and at sixteen apprenticed himself to the printer's trade with Flagg and Gould, remaining with them and their successors, Flagg, Gould, and Newman, after the removal from the "Dea. Abbot store" to the new "Printing-House," now the "Brick House." (Within a few weeks he showed the writer an old-fashioned jack-knife which, he said, was the first one out of the first box opened in the new office. That was nearly sixty years ago, and he had carried it in his pocket ever since.) May 14, 1835, he married Lucy Abbot, daughter of Capt. Job Abbot and Lucy Chandler, and in 1842 removed to New York City. There he worked at first in the printing establishment of John F. Trow, formerly of Andover, and so long the publisher of the New York Directory, but in 1846 became the depositary in the Bible House of the American Bible Society, a responsible position which he filled acceptably for forty years, returning to Andover in 1886.

He had been accustomed during all this long period to visit the old town every summer, and sometimes more than once, so that he never lost the knowledge of its places and families, his memory of which, stretching back to 1817, was very full and vivid. It was a great pleasure to spend his last years here among the scenes of his early life, and to renew his membership in the Old South Church, where until his recent confinement to the house he was an invariable attendant on the Sabbath services. He united with that church in 1830, and had been all his life heartily and efficiently interested in church and religious work. In New York he was a deacon in the old Spring Street Church, was afterwards identified with Dr. Cheever's Church of the Puritans and, when that church was dissolved, with the "up-town" church of the same name which succeeded it. In this he was successively deacon and elder, as well as trustee. It was a striking mark of the esteem in which Mr. Holt was held by this church that its pastor, Rev. Dr. Edward L. Clark, should have come from New York to attend the funeral service, which was held on Monday afternoon at Mr. Blunt's. After the reading of the Scriptures by Rev. L. H. Sheldon, Dr. Clark paid a high tribute to the Christian character of Mr. Holt, and to the value of his service to the Church of the Puritans. He was buried in the Old South Cemetery.

Death of Phillips Alumni.

The Academy has lost by death since our last issue two of its honored alumni, Dr. Edward T. Eastman of Boston, class of 1842, and Thomas Blagden of New York, class of 1857. Dr. Eastman was too ill to attend the fiftieth anniversary of his graduation and the reunion so elaborately prepared by Hon. Moses T. Stevens, last August. Mr. Blagden was the son of Rev. Dr. Blagden, so long the pastor of the Old South Church in Boston.

Abbot Piano Recitals.

The first Abbot Academy piano recital will be given by Mr. and Mrs. Max Heinrich as early in December as possible after the Thanksgiving recess of the schools. All who heard Mr. Heinrich last spring are very eager to hear him again, and the presence of Mrs. Heinrich will add much to the attraction of the concert.

In January Professor Carl Faelten, the present manager of the New England Conservatory, will play a very beautiful and interesting programme. Professor Faelten will have the valuable assistance of Miss Caroline Clark, who since she sang in these concerts has had rare opportunities for study and advancement. Later in January Mr. Baermann will play, and as usual, without doubt, will prove the consummate flower of the winter's delight.

To all, students, business men, and people of large and much to be envied leisure, such concerts as the above are not only profitable, but instinct with pleasure of a kind entirely distinct from the ordinary Andover opportunities.

Weather Notes.

Nothing that started for New England last October, in the way of weather, alighted here. Everything swept off to sea, and as the accounts keep coming in show some remarkable strokes of business on the "great waters." The conjunction of the full moon with Jupiter, on the 6th, was followed by clear weather, but its opposition to the sun, a week later, introduced a Japan typhoon, a Colorado snow-storm, and an English tempest. The eclipse of the sun the 20th was followed by a remarkable series of big waves and storms on the Atlantic. Now that the sun and moon have got calmed down, you may expect some real Democratic weather for November,—an unusual rainfall. All nature will groan with us Republicans.

Y.P.S.C.E. Officers.

The South Church Y. P. S. C. E. held its semi-annual business meeting last Friday night, when the following officers were elected: President, Frank T. Carleton; vice-president, Will Minor; secretary, Nellie H. Farmer; treasurer, Dora Mason; organist, Guy W. Gilbert.

The several committees are as follows: Prayer meeting, F. H. Foster, Mary Mason, Gertrude Barnard; Lookout, Anna Abbott, Jennie Abbott, Guy W. Gilbert; Social, Miss Kimball, Fred P. Berry, H. W. Barnard; Floral, Mary A. Ripley, Maud Randall, H. W. Ring.

After the election a very pleasant social was enjoyed, although there were not many present on account of the rain.

Rev. E. B. Bary's Call.

Last week we reported the call of Rev. E. B. Bary of this town to the Central Congregational Church of Bangor, Me. Since then, the official notification has been received, accompanied by personal letters from prominent members of the congregation. It seems that more than 50 people attended the meeting which voted the call, nearly every one of whom spoke cordial words in favor of Mr. Bary, and not a single voice or vote appeared against him. The salary is to be $2500, and so eager are the people to secure their new pastor's presence that they had already selected a parsonage for him. Mr. Bary sent his letter of acceptance on Tuesday of this week, and will assume charge of his new pulpit next Sunday.

BALLARDVALE.

Miss Augusta V. Durgin died at the home of L. P. Cram on Oak St., Tuesday evening, of heart disease, aged 54 years. She was born in Reading, Mass., but had lived in Medford for many years. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Cram and Mrs. Robert N. Lee of Beverly. The funeral was held to-day from her late home, Rev. Mr. Fuller officiating.

Election day passed very quietly and all the votes but four were cast before the early afternoon, which shows that considerable interest was taken in the result. One man went to the polls with a placard to the effect that Bill McKinley and the McKinley Bill were to prevail for the next eight years, but to-day he is "sad and melancholy" and the rest of the family are "glad and jolly" as can be.

In the Bradlee Course next Wednesday evening Prof. Joseph Kimball will lecture. Prof. Kimball has contributed to almost every course since their commencement, and is the most popular here of any lecturer we have had.

The ladies of the Union Church gave a harvest supper in the vestry last Wednesday evening. There was a large turnout and a good sum was realized. Outside of the financial success it was a pleasant time socially.

The E. C. L. A. T. S. will give a second dance in Bradlee Hall, to be held Thursday evening, Nov. 17th. A good attendance is expected.

Prof. F. A. Stowell has formed a class in dancing. The first lesson was given last Friday evening, but in future they will be held on Tuesday evenings.

Matthew Caffrey has been promoted to be a freight conductor. His many friends in town will be glad to hear of his advancement.

The new club in the schoolhouse block have already secured a large membership, and many other applications are in. It promises to be a success from the outset.

Isaac Johnson, employed as a section hand, broke his arm below the elbow while working on the Lowell branch, Wednesday. He was tightening a bolt when the wrench slipped and he fell striking his arm on the rail.

H. S. Neal has been in New Hampshire this week.

Calvin Mears spent three days the early part of the week in North Berwick, Me.

The Misses Fuller of Cambridge are visiting their cousins, the Misses Julia and Mary Brown.

An Uncle Tom's Cabin Co. gave a representation of that drama in Y. L. P. U. Hall last Friday night. About seventy-five were present.

The Bishop of New York, after cogitating for a year on the charges of heresy brought against Rev. R. Heber Newton, has dismissed them as groundless. Next!

Lowell Weavers on Strike.

LOWELL, Mass., Nov. 8.—The gingham weavers in the Tremont and Suffolk mills, fifty in number, are on strike. They say that it is the beginning of the big strike of cotton mill employees threatened for some time past. They claim that two years ago they received 57 cents and now they get but 40 and 45 cents.

Mills Running Again.

SOUTH FRAMINGHAM, Mass., Nov. 10.—The labor trouble at the woolen mills in Saxonville has been adjusted and the mills are running again. The carrier boys, who struck for an advance of 20 cents a day, did not receive it, although some of them have returned to work.

Bought by an English Syndicate.

HARTFORD, Nov. 10.—Negotiations for the purchase of the Pratt & Whitney works by an English syndicate have been practically completed, and the plant will be in the control of the Englishmen soon. The terms are $2,500,000.

THIS TELLS THE STORY!

Overcoats this season are made both double and single breasted. We are selling both styles; the lowest priced ones are worth the money. The fine ones are just as good as custom made, and you can buy one for ten dollars less. Just think of it, ten dollars saved on one overcoat.

TRY IT!

The regular old-fashioned wide-collar heavy ulsters are still popular. Of this style our FRIEZ KING at $12 is acknowledged to be the best. The popular style for young men is the McAllaster, made with hood, shawl collar, cut extra long. They are very stylish. We show both foreign and domestic good in this style of garment. Come and see them.

THE BIG LANDSLIDE.

Grover Cleveland's Election an Assured Fact.

REPUBLICANS ARE LOTH TO GIVE UP.

Figures From Many Western States Are Still Incomplete.

Returns from all parts of the country add to the completeness of Cleveland's victory. The Democrats have carried the states of Illinois, Indiana, Connecticut and Wisconsin, which Republicans were claiming at an early hour yesterday.

GROVER CLEVELAND.

Connecticut not only chose Cleveland electors by a large plurality, but gave a safe majority for Morris (Dem.) for governor.

New Jersey gives about 9000 plurality for Cleveland, and elects Werts (Dem.) governor.

News from West Virginia is late, but it shows that the entire Democratic ticket has been elected.

ADLAI E. STEVENSON.

The returns of the election of representatives in congress and of members of state legislatures indicate that President Cleveland will have a majority of both branches of the national legislative body. The startling news that Ohio has probably gone Democratic by 1800 to 2000. Here is the probable composition of the Electoral College:

THE LATEST RETURNS.

WILLIAM E. RUSSELL.

BOSTON, Nov. 10.—Governor Russell's plurality in Massachusetts, with returns from all the towns except Royalston, Boxboro, Georgetown, Walpole, Braintree, Marshfield, Seekonk, West Bridge-

ROGER WOLCOTT.

Lieutenant Governor-Elect. water and Somerset, is 2493. These towns in 1891 gave a plurality of 273 for Mr. Allen, so that it will be seen that Governor Russell is re-elected. This result ing asked to give his views on the result he replied: "What is the use, it is all over. I am convinced we are beaten. I have no hope in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin."

Strength of the Farmers' Alliance. Indications point to the balance of power in the United States senate being in the hands of the Populists or Farmers' Alliance. The Democrats appear to have gained control of the legislature on joint ballot in four states which are now represented by Republicans in the upper house, and the Populists claim to be able to elect three new senators.

This will change the standing of the different parties in the senate from 47 Republicans, 39 Democrats and 2 Farmers' Alliance to 43 Democrats, 40 Republicans and 5 Farmers' Alliance. Complete returns on the vote for members of the legislature of several of the northwestern states are not to be had, but the Farmers' Alliance appear to have a sufficient number of these states to give them the balance of power.

Probable Composition of Congress. NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Reports from yesterday's congressional elections are still incomplete. Statements of the political divisions of the membership of the senate and house of representatives in the Fifty-third congress, necessarily contain elements of uncertainty that cannot be avoided, but the reports that have been received do not make any material changes in the tables heretofore sent out by the United Press. Democrats claim that they have carried the Wyoming legislature and will thereby secure a successor to Senator Warren, whose term expires March 4 next. This would give them 42 senators, and almost certainly give to the Third party senators the control of that body. Enthusiastic Democrats, however, claim that their party will secure enough additional senators from other western states, to give them control of the upper branch of congress after March 4. But a substantial basis for that claim cannot be seen in the reports so far received.

A number of changes in the composition of state delegations in the next house of representatives, as heretofore given, have been made necessary by later reports. The net results, however, do not vary materially from the figures given yesterday. In the Sixteenth New York district, Francis Mervin (Rep.) seems to have defeated Henry M. Bacon (Dem.) This and other changes noted, gives the Democrats 218 members of the next house, Republicans, 137; Farmers' Alliance, 9. The Republican column is likely to be increased by the supplemental elections to be held in the two Rhode Island districts, neither of which gave a majority to any candidate yesterday. The state delegations in the Fifty-third congress, according to reports received thus far, will stand as follows:

State	Rep.	Dem.	F. A.
Alabama	9	6
Arkansas	6	4
California	3	4
Colorado	3	4
Connecticut	1	3
Delaware	1	1
Florida	2	3
Georgia	11	11
Idaho	1	12
Illinois	10	12
Indiana	4	9
Iowa	5	6
Kansas	4	4
Kentucky	1	10
Louisiana	1	10
Maine	4	6
Maryland	6	6
Massachusetts	9	4
Michigan	7	5
Minnesota	6	1
Mississippi	3	7
Missouri	3	13
Montana	1	2
Nebraska	2	3
Nevada	1	1
New Hampshire	3	5
New Jersey	14	20
New York	1	1
North Carolina	11	10
Ohio	3	3
Oregon	3	10
Pennsylvania	20	10
Rhode Island	No election.
South Carolina	2	6
South Dakota	2	8
Tennessee	2	13
Texas	3	10
Vermont	2	4
Virginia	2	4
Washington	4	6
West Virginia	1	1
Wisconsin	1	1
Wyoming	3	3
Total	127	218	9

has been reached after a careful revision of the tables printed yesterday, which have been corrected and added to. The tables show 2391 plurality, and an error has been discovered in Boston by which Russell benefits 45 votes, but they cannot be placed in the table. This makes the total of 2436. With the same towns missing, Mr. Wolcott leads Mr. Carroll for lieutenant-governor by 845 votes.

The Granite State. CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 10.—One hundred and seventy-one towns and wards give Smith (Rep.) for governor, 26,073; McKinney (Dem.), 24,757; Carr (Pro.), 981; Noyes (People's), 155.

These returns indicate that Harrison has a plurality of 12,000 in the state. The returns from all places in the First congressional district, with the exception of Somersworth, a few small towns in Hillsboro and Carroll counties, and some wards in Manchester, which, it is suspected, will give an average majority of 500 against Blair (Rep.), indicate that Blair will be elected by 1200 to 1800. In the Second district Baker (Rep.), by large gains in Cheshire and Coos counties, is head of Parker (Dem.) by 600. Baker's unexpectedly large vote indicates not only his own election, but that Smith (Rep.) will be elected governor by the people.

The latest returns show that the Republicans have 40 to 50 majority in the legislature. In Merrimack county the Democrats elect F. P. Kellogg, treasurer; D. D. Taylor and A. J. Thurston, commissioners; and probably F. P. Cram, commissioner, and D. B. Donovan, solicitor. The Republicans certainly elect J. P. Nutter, register of probate, and probably D. N. Brown, register of deeds. The vote for sheriff is so close that it can only be determined by the official returns.

Democrats Carry Connecticut.

L. B. MORRIS.

Governor-Elect of Connecticut. HARTFORD, Nov. 10.—The vote in this state, with one town missing, gives Cleveland 82,406; Harrison, 76,989; Weaver, 3594; scattering, 1666.—Cleveland's plurality, 5417. Four years ago it was 3853. The entire Democratic ticket is elected, the vote for governor being: Morris (Dem.), 83,269; Merwin (Rep.), 76,402; Augur (Pro.), 3549; scattering, 113. Morris' majority (required by the constitution), 1115. The state senate is a tie, and the Republicans have about 14 majority in the house.

Vermont's Majority Will Be 21,000. WHITE RIVER JUNCTION, Vt., Nov. 10.—Returns from 191 towns in this state give Harrison 33,792; Cleveland, 18,954; Bidwell, 1218; scattering, 55. Harrison's majority, 18,564. The same towns in 1888 gave Harrison 40,000; Cleveland, 14,440; Flake, 1243. Harrison's majority, 24,317. In many towns the compilation of votes is not completed. There are 53 towns yet to hear from. A fair estimate of Harrison's majority in this state places it at about 21,000.

Latest from Maine. AUGUSTA, Me., Nov. 10.—Returns from Maine indicate that Harrison's plurality will be from 13,000 to 15,000. The Republican plurality in September was 12,412. In 1888 the Republican plurality for governor was 18,033 and for president 23,358.

Wisconsin in the Democratic Column.

GOVERNOR PECK.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 10.—Henry C. Payne, ex-chairman of the Republican state central committee, practically concedes Wisconsin to the Democrats. He says that while the returns are not complete, if the same average of Democratic gain is maintained in the northern counties of the state not yet heard from, Mr. Spooner will unquestionably be defeated, together with the entire state ticket.

Democratic Chairman Wall says Cleveland and Peck are elected by about 13,000. Returns are incomplete, but will not make any material difference in the result.

Indiana Looks Democratic. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—Figuring two different ways, Indiana looks Democratic. Semi-official returns from 23 counties show a Democratic gain over 1888 of 2317. Harrison's plurality in 1888 was 2343. A compilation of the bulletins received based on 1890 show Republican gains to be 2109. To maintain a ratio of gain that would save the state for Harrison, these 340 precincts should show 2350 gain. Several counties from which large Republican gains are confidently hoped for are not yet reported, and it is upon these that Chairman Gowdy of the Republican state committee places reliance for a hopeful outcome.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—Treasurer Nebraska telegraphs Acting Treasurer Whelpley: Indiana is in the wreck. I will be home tonight.

Kansas is for Weaver. TOPEKA, Kan., Nov. 10.—Chairman Breidenthal of the Populist committee claims to have reports from 32 counties, only two of which have returned Republican majorities. He claims that the fusion ticket has been successful along the line, and that eight fusion congressmen and a majority of the legislature have been elected. Chairman Jones of the Democratic state central committee tele-

Card of Thanks

To the Ladies.

We have just finished the second and most successful year since we opened our establishment in Lawrence. We refer, of course, to Rhodes' Ladies Hairdressing, Manicure, and Toilet Parlors, and in using this card of thanks to our patrons, we also desire to call the attention of those ladies who have not as yet paid us a visit, to the nature of our business. Does your hair fall out? If so, we can prevent it. Are the ends split? Then have them singed. Shampooing, when done by our method is a luxury, (we have three distinct methods of drying the hair.) Do you need a new switch or front piece? We have the best stock at the cheapest prices in the city. We have private rooms for showing hair goods and coloring of hair. Do you realize that with a little attention your finger nails may be made beautiful, and that our manicure will be pleased to do them for you and also give you valuable hints to improve your complexion. Our parlors are second to none in the state and you can depend on cleanliness, civility and long experience.

ELM HOUSE STABLES,

graphed Chairman Harrity in New York that the electoral vote of Kansas would surely be cast for Weaver and Field. It is probable that nothing definite will be known for twenty-four hours.

New Jersey for Cleveland.

JUDGE GEORGE T. WERTS.
Governor-Elect of New Jersey.
TRENTON, Nov. 10.—New Jersey is Democratic by nearly 10,000 plurality.
TRENTON, Nov. 10.—The indications are that Cleveland has carried the state of New Jersey by 7500, and that Werts (Dem.) for governor has been elected by a plurality of 4000. The next legislature will stand as follows: Senate—Republicans, 4; Democrats, 17. House—Democrats, 56; Republicans, 23. The majority on joint ballot will be 31, which leaves a net Republican gain of 4. For congress the Republicans have carried the First and Second districts, and possibly the Eighth. The returns from the latter district are still incomplete.

West Virginia's Surprise.

WILLIAM A. MCCORKLE.
Governor-Elect of West Virginia.
WHEELING, Nov. 10.—West Virginia has surprised even many Democrats by remaining true to the solid south. Tuesday everybody expected that the state would go Republican. Now the Republican state committee concedes the election of McCorkle (Dem.) for governor by 1300 plurality. The state has gone for Cleveland. The legislature will be Democratic on joint ballot by 10 majority.

Weaver Sweeps Colorado.

DENVER, Nov. 10.—Weaver has swept Colorado from one end to the other. His plurality will be nearly 10,000. Waite, the Populist candidate for governor, is apparently elected. The congressional delegates will undoubtedly be Pence and Bell, Populists.

DENVER, Nov. 10.—Additional returns only tend to pile up the Populist majority in Colorado, which will be anywhere from 8000 to 7000, with Waite, Populist candidate for governor, probably 3000 votes behind his ticket. The Populists will have control of the lower house of the legislature and probably the senate. Long term senators elected will have a vote in the session of 1895 for a United States senator to succeed Senator Wolcott. Of the 17 long term senators chosen, the Populists have elected 10 or 12 and possibly more.

Tennessee Democrats Are Happy.

JUDGE PETER TURNEY.
Governor-Elect of Tennessee.
NASHVILLE, Nov. 10.—The election returns are coming in rather slowly, but enough have been secured to guarantee the success of the Democratic state and national ticket by from 35,000 to 50,000 plurality. The legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic in both branches. The First and Second congressional districts go Republican as usual, while the other 8 are Democratic.

California is Doubt.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Returns are too meagre to say with positiveness which electoral ticket has carried the state, but indications are that Harrison will probably carry the state by a plurality less than that of four years ago. Weaver's vote was somewhat larger than was estimated by managers of both political parties, and cut into the Republican vote in some counties much heavier than it did in the Democratic vote. The legislature is still in doubt but will probably be Republican on joint ballot. The Democrats will in all probability carry four congressional districts, and the Republicans the remaining three, although the vote is close in the Seventh district, with chances in favor of the Republican candidate.

Washington Goes Republican.
SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Estimates based on unofficial returns indicate that Harrison has carried the state by a plurality that will not fall short of 4000, and that McGraw (Rep.) for governor, will have a plurality of over 8000. There is no doubt that both Republican congressmen are elected. Returns as regards the legislature are exceedingly meagre, but from general indications Republicans have every reason to expect good working majorities in both houses.

Republicans Carry Minnesota.

ENUTE NELSON.
Governor-Elect of Minnesota.
MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 10.—Returns indicate a Republican majority on national and state tickets from 20,000 to 30,000.

Missouri's Choice.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—The Democratic state committee claim that 50 counties complete give Stone (Dem.) 21,638, over Warner (Rep.) Stone's plurality will probably be 25,000. The committee claims all the congressional districts, except the Tenth and Eleventh. In the Tenth the Republicans elect Bartholdt. The Eleventh is in doubt, and it will take the official count to decide. Cleveland will lead Stone (for governor) by 5000 in the state.

The Illinois Landslide.

JUDGE ALTON.
Governor-Elect of Illinois.
CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The later returns do not abate in any way from the decisive Democratic victory in the state of Illinois on national or state tickets. Conservative men of all parties now agree that the Democratic plurality in Illinois will be apparently 10,000.

The Situation in Virginia.

RICHMOND, Nov. 10.—A little more than two-thirds of the state heard from gives Cleveland's plurality 28,100, with indications of an increase in complete returns of 25,000. Tyler (Dem.) for congress in the Second district, has a plurality of at least 6000. Democrats claim that Eppes will pull through with a majority of about 500. If so the entire delegation will be Democratic.

All Solid for Cleveland.

W. M. FISHBACK.
Governor-Elect of Arkansas.
LITTLE ROCK, Nov. 10.—The state will give Cleveland a good majority, and all Democratic congressmen will be elected. Fishback will be the next governor.

Close Vote in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 10.—Late returns reveal the fact that the result in Ohio is very close. The Democratic electors have a lead of a little over 700 plurality, with 4 counties to hear from. Three of these are Democratic. S. M. Taylor, Republican candidate for secretary of state, claims his election by 676. It is, however, thought that he runs behind the Republican electors.

Not Settled in Nebraska.

OMAHA, Nov. 10.—The result in Nebraska is still in doubt, with both sides claiming the state on electors and the Democrats conceding the election of Cronan (Rep.) for governor. Returns from 41 of the 90 counties show a plurality of 5000 for the Harrison over the Weaver electors.

One Republican Wins in Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 10.—Cleveland's plurality in this state is 578. John W. Causey (Dem.) is re-elected to congress by about the same majority. Pierce Gould, the Republican candidate for sheriff in Newcastle county, is elected by 128 plurality. He is the only Republican chosen in the state.

In North Carolina.

RALEIGH, Nov. 10.—Congressional returns are now so far complete as to show positively the Democrats have elected congressmen in all districts save the Fifth. There Williams (Dem.) has 4000 majority with one county to hear from which usually gives a small Republican majority.

Figures From Pennsylvania.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 10.—The next state senate will consist of 81 Republicans and 19 Democrats. The general assembly will include 140 Republicans and 64 Democrats. The Republican majority on joint ball will be 90. John Dean (Rep.) is elected justice of the supreme court.

Silver Men Carry Nevada.

CARSON, Nev., Nov. 10.—The Weaver electors carry the state by an estimated majority of 1500. F. G. Newlands, silver nominee for congress, has a majority of 1000 over Woodburn (Rep.) The silver, or Stewart legislative ticket, carries nearly every county in the state.

Republicans Claim Michigan.

JOHN T. RICH.
Governor-Elect of Michigan.
DETROIT, Nov. 10.—The Tribune (Rep.) says: Rich, for governor, has carried the state from 3000 to 10,000, and the rest of the ticket will go with him. The Second, Fifth and Tenth congressional tickets are Democratic. The Republicans have carried the Third, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth, Eleventh and Twelfth. The First, Fourth and Seventh are in doubt.

Big Vote for Cleveland.

CHARLESTON, Nov. 10.—Twenty-three counties give Cleveland 18,993. Harrison, 3399; Weaver, 1013. One congressman is in doubt, the rest are Democratic. Returns are meagre. It is a close race for governor. Cleveland's plurality will be between 60,000 and 80,000.

Solid for Cleveland.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 10.—Incomplete returns, 46 of 66 counties, place Cleveland's majority at 25,000. Complete returns have come from only a few counties. Cleveland made big gains on the Democratic vote at the August state election.

How Missouri Voted.

WILLIAM J. STONE.
Governor-Elect of Missouri.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 10.—Cleveland's plurality in Missouri will be 35,000; Stone (Dem.) for governor, 31,000. Cobb (Dem.), is elected for congress in the Twelfth district, and Bartholdt (Rep.) is elected to congress in the Tenth district.

Democratic Losses in Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 10.—Returns now coming in rapidly increase Harrison's plurality to 30,000. Anti-Prohibition Republicans have returned to the party in platoons, showing enormous Democratic losses everywhere.

Latest From North Dakota.

BISMARCK, Nov. 10.—The Missouri slope counties have given the Republican ticket 1200 majority. The national and state Republican tickets are safe by 2000 majority. The legislature is in doubt.

Oregon's Vote.

PORTLAND, Or., Nov. 10.—One hundred and seventy-nine precincts in Oregon give Harrison, 15,611; Cleveland, 7270; Weaver, 14,064; Bidwell, 960. Harrison's majority in the state will be about 7500.

Weaver and a Republican Governor.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Nov. 10.—Returns are unprecedentedly slow. The outlook is that Weaver has carried the state by 1000 majority, and Sheldon (Rep.) is elected governor.

Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 10.—Returns from 107 precincts give: Harrison, 9918; Cleveland, 9740. The Republicans claim the entire state ticket.

Mississippi.

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 10.—Cleveland carries the state by probably 30,000. Democrats claim the election of all congressmen.

People's Party Vote Knocked Out.

JACKSONVILLE, Nov. 10.—Indications are that Florida's solidly Democratic vote has not been disturbed by the People's party.

Washington.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 10.—Cleveland has made wonderful gains, and indications point to his carrying the state.

Georgia.

ATLANTA, Nov. 10.—Cleveland carries this state by 60,000 majority. A solid delegation to congress has been elected.

The Lone Star State for Cleveland.

GALVESTON, Nov. 10.—The vote will probably not exceed that of 1888, when Cleveland's plurality was 150,000.

Iowa.

DES MOINES, Nov. 10.—The Leader (Dem.) says Iowa is Republican by a small plurality; congressmen saved.

New York's Big Plurality.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The latest returns from New York state make Cleveland's plurality 43,548.

New Mexico, Wyoming and Idaho.

New Mexico elects the Democratic ticket, except Caleron (Rep.), who is elected to congress. In Wyoming the Republicans have carried the day, and in Idaho the Populists claim the state.

How are you going to tell a good paint from a poor one by reading the advertisements?

The poor paint may be advertised more extensively than the good one, as there is a larger margin of profit for the manufacturer. It is a difficult question to answer.

The advertisements of the Chilton Paints have one object in view, to familiarize you with the name Chilton, and connect it in your mind with paint; this done, we want you to inquire, if you can, of those who have used it, how they like it—how it wears—if it is an economical paint to buy—ask all the questions you choose, we will abide by the result and will be pleased to tell you who has used it. THE BIG MAN IN A LITTLE TOWN.

The czar of all the Russias is declared to be an autocrat. Who as a real harsh monarch has his ruling business down quite pat: And there are other mighty men who govern And who insist on being praised by every subject in the land. But king nor emperor nor czar nor any other potentate. It matters not how vast his realm, how glorious his pomp and state, how many days for the the sunbeams shine on his crown, Is half so great a being as the big man in a little town.

The big man in a little town may never boast a royal name Nor noble blood, but what of that? Why should he care from whence he came, Since all the earth is his to sell or trade or give away or rent? No wonder that this hollow life to him seems rounded with content. All classes and all ages know that he is wonderfully wise. And people come from far away to seek his valuable advice. 'Tis said that in the "over there" they save for him the brightest crown. For nothing else would satisfy the big man from a little town. —Chicago Times.

The Wagon of the Canadian Half Breed.

By preference and from lack of other timber the half breed of the northwestern plains constructs his cart of poplar, the characteristic vehicle for all purposes in summer and his sledge or jumper for winter use. With his ax, an auger and his buffalo knife for tools, in a short time he builds a light, stout cart singularly well adapted to his circumstances. As ordinarily constructed it contains, like the harness with which it is attached to the draft animal, not a particle of iron. The wheels are well framed together and are about five feet in diameter. The spokes are well driven into the nave, the pieces of the felly are doweled together and the structure dishes after the most approved fashion.

The pony or the bullock which is to supply the motive power is harnessed between two large, light shafts, and upon the axle of the cart a light framework is built to contain the packages which are to form the load. It is lined and floored with thin boards wrought out of trees with the ax, or, more recently, the whip-saw. On such a cart a load of 800 pounds can be carried with safety, as its strength is such that repairs are rarely necessary. —C. A. Kennison in Century.

People Say

THAT—Columbus discovered America.
THAT—As a patient waiter for a celebration in honor of the event, "Chris." is a success.
THAT—Numerous minor events have since been discovered, one of which is that Bicknell Bros. are hustlers in the clothing business.
THAT—The strictly all-wool Beaver Overcoats they are selling at $10 each have given their competitors heart failure.
THAT—The colors are blue, black and brown, and the blue is warranted fast color.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. buy their Underwear direct from the makers.
THAT—Their 75c and $1 Underwear are simply unmatchable.
THAT—Dunlap Hat wearers are now buying them at Bicknell Bros. instead of going to Boston for them.
THAT—The "Collegiate" Overcoat will be admired by students.
THAT—They are cut ulster length and that Andover students buy them at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—Shawl Collar and Hood Ulsters are "takers" with the young trade.
THAT—Mothers are thoroughly in love this season with the Suits, Overcoats and Ulsters in our Boys' Department.
THAT—Our Neckwear Department shines with new goods, and
THAT—If a man don't know what he wants "Dan" can tell him.
THAT—They get better served at Bicknell Bros. than in Boston.

THAT—The people are thoroughly convinced that they can buy cheaper, and
THAT—This issue of Bicknell Bros. Advertiser is a dandy, and
THAT—All who follow its direction will eventually wear diamonds.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. are good blowers and that they never fail to back up anything they advertise to do.
THAT—Our customers find in garments of our own make comfort, durability and economy.
THAT—The idea of introducing our salesmen to the public by producing herein their likenesses is a novel one.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. Advertiser, 30,000 of which are now being printed, is the most interesting number they have issued.
THAT—The wholesale manner in which Bicknell Bros. have there-in introduced their salesmen to the public is a novel idea.
THAT—More room has been added to their Shirt Department to accommodate the increasing demand for Eagle Shirts.
THAT—Bicycle Riders buy their sweaters at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—Bicknell Bros. have a larger stock of Ulsters than any other three stores in Lawrence combined, and
THAT—The special designs of their own with hoods and shawl collars, are "dandies."
THAT—Those Canvas Coats, lined with sheepskin tanned with the wool on, which they are selling at Bicknell Bros. would draw perspiration from the North Pole.

Young Men Say

THAT—In securing the agency for "Dunlap Hats" we have done the right thing.
THAT—Our Hat Department is now by far the largest, best managed and most satisfactory in Lawrence.
THAT—Our stock of Dress and Street Gloves is correct. Prices: $1.00, $1.25, $1.50 and $2.00.
THAT—They get the best 50c necktie at Bicknell Bros., and that if they want something nicer that is crammed full of the latest style "Dan" always has it for them.
THAT—They get the latest styles in Linen Goods at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—When you talk about nice Undergarments, our competitors are not "in it."
THAT—There is really only one place in Lawrence to buy Night Shirts.
THAT—When they want the correct thing at a reasonable price they go to Bicknell Bros. after it.

Mothers Say

THAT—They always find the largest and best selected stock of Boys' Reefers at Bicknell Bros.
THAT—Our stock of Hood and Shawl Collar Ulsters for boys is just elegant.
THAT—Our stock of Boys' Cape Overcoats is the best in town.
THAT—After looking elsewhere for Boys' Hats, Caps, Gloves, Mittens and Underwear, our stock is the most satisfactory.

LOCAL NEWS.

If you see it in the Townsman, it's news to be relied upon; if it is news and so, you'll see it in the Townsman.

The Y.A.A.C. foot-ball team will play the Phillips Street team on the campus to-morrow afternoon.

William Haddon of Arbroath, Scotland, arrived in this town Saturday, and will probably locate here.

Several Andover persons will attend the Harvard-Yale foot-ball game at Springfield to-morrow.

Brainard Cummings has the contract to build J. P. Eaton's house on Central Street.

The annual meeting of the Burns Club, called for last Saturday night, was postponed to a later date.

The local Democrats will aid the North Andover Democrats in their jollification Monday night.

The brake belonging to W. H. Higgins is in great demand. Last night it was in the Democratic parade in Haverhill.

On Thanksgiving Day the Post Office will be open from 7 to 9:30 A.M., and closed the remainder of the day.

A very pleasant reception was given by Prof. and Mrs. Hincks at their residence on Bartlett Street, last Friday night.

Stephen White, who formerly resided on Pearson Street, died last Friday, at his home in Detroit. He was about 21 years old.

We are reminded of L. A. Belknap's safe arrival in the West by a copy of the Minneapolis Sunday Tribune, a twenty-four page paper.

Several of the local members of Christian Endeavor Societies attended the state convention at Lowell Wednesday and Thursday.

The Phillipsian Extra was published in a very short time after the game last Saturday, with a full account and pictures of both teams.

A man by the name of William White was arrested by Chief of Police Cheever Monday, and Judge Poor sent him up for 30 days for being a vagrant.

Prof. Tucker will speak at the North Church, Haverhill, to-night, by invitation of the "Roman Club," upon the sociological questions.

A photographing concern on wheels is stationed in the vacant space at the corner of Park and Florence Streets. Tin-types are a specialty.

O. P. Chase, manager of the Andover Orchestra, has issued some very neat calendars for 1893. They are the work of the Andover Press.

Interesting programmes have been arranged to be given at the coffee party at St. Augustine's Church, on Monday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings of next week.

The Andover Grange will work the third and fourth degrees next Tuesday evening. Several of the members are preparing a farce which they intend to give before the Methuen Grange later.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society of Christ Church will hold an entertainment and sale in the Parish building on Thursday evening, Dec. 1. The Phillips Glee Club is expected to contribute several selections.

The inspection of the Woman's Relief Corps, Tuesday night, by Mrs. Richards of Medford was very successful. There was a large attendance of members and the work was well done. Nine new members were initiated, making a total membership of 73. After the ceremony a collation was served, followed by a general social time.

There will be a harvest festival at Christ Church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 23, at 7:30 o'clock. Contributions are requested, of fruit, flowers, vegetables, meats, groceries, clothing, money, etc., all which will be sent the next day to the Lawrence Hospital. The public are invited.

Prof. Smyth of the Seminary addressed a meeting of the South Middlesex Unitarian Club at Young's Hotel, Boston, Wednesday evening. His subject was "Progressive Orthodoxy." The Advertiser says his address was deeply impressive and that the venerable divine spoke with even more than his usual intense seriousness and spirituality, and his words fell with a hush of awe on his reverent listeners.

The Haverhill Gazette in speaking of the prosperity of the shoe industry in that city says of a former Andover resident:

"P. N. Wadleigh has secured additional factory room adjoining his present premises. The new building will be connected with the old one by bridges, and will give three stories of additional room. Mr. Wadleigh has for months needed this extra space, for his business is very large and increasing all the time. He will push his line of children's goods more actively than before, and has laid out a very active campaign for the next season."

Free for 1892.

To all new Subscribers for the "Townsman" who send in $2.00, the paper will be sent free for 1892 and the one year's subscription dating from January 1st, 1893, to January 1st, 1894.

There was a delay of about an hour on the Andover line of the electric road Wednesday morning. The 9:15 car burnt out its fuses at Frye Village.

Owing to the temporary absence of Prest. Smyth, Prof. Harris has for a part of this month been acting as substitute pastor of the Seminary Church.

Fred A. Andrews, clerk of the water board, has been visiting in New Haven, Conn. George E. Hussey acted as clerk during his absence.

It certainly did not seem natural last Saturday night to have it so quiet after an Andover-Exeter game. It has been quite a long time since Andover enjoyed that rest.

Andover was represented in the Democratic jollification at Lawrence, Monday night. The local battalion with the Drum Corps and both of the Elm House stable coaches were in the parade.

As a result of petitions sent to the Selectmen, they recounted the votes for governor Tuesday afternoon and there was but a slight change. Russell gained one.

The regular meeting for the rehearsal of "La Mascotte" will be omitted next week, and the presence of all members is urged for the date of Dec. 1, as a matter of importance will be decided.

A union Thanksgiving Day service will be held at the South Church next Thursday morning at 10:30. The sermon will be delivered by Prof. Ryder of the Seminary.

At a business meeting of the Essex Agricultural Society, held at Salem Tuesday, it was voted to hold the annual show next year at Haverhill. Danvers was its nearest competitor. The fair also will be held three days instead of two.

The annual ball of the engine company next Wednesday evening promises as usual to be one of the enjoyable events of the season, and will doubtless have a large attendance. The Andover Band Orchestra will furnish music, Charles A. Clark, prompter. The tickets are $1.00 admitting gentleman and lady, and gallery 25 cents. The grand march will be at 8:30.

Some of the lectures and recitations were suspended at the Seminary on Thursday to permit the students to attend the State Convention of the Y.P.S.C.E. at Lowell, and a large delegation accordingly went. Next week there will be a recess from Wednesday noon to Friday noon.

The management of the People's lecture course, before introducing the speaker, made an urgent request that hereafter the audience would try and be in their seats at 7:45 p.m. He said they had been troubled very much by so many coming in late, and it was also very annoying.

Among the important state officers, whose terms expire next year and which Gov. Russell will have to fill by appointment, is Geo. H. Poor of this town as commissioner to apportion accounts of the Boston & Maine railroad, Dec. 30. His term as justice of the peace also expires next spring.

Wednesday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock Albert B. Burtt, son of William Burtt of West Parish, and Miss Elizabeth O'Hara were united in marriage, at the home of the latter, Rev. Frederic Palmer officiating. After receiving the congratulations of many friends, they left town for a short wedding trip. On their return they will reside at the home of Austin Poland.

Next Monday night, our former well-known citizen, Lieut. A. V. Wadhams, will deliver the lecture in the People's Course. His subject will be "Life aboard a Man-of-War." Lieut. Wadhams entered the navy in 1864 and has visited more than thirty countries. The lecture is said to be very interesting and consists mainly in the description of the new ships, the duties, drills, discipline and routine of a man-of-war.

Bishop Phillips Brooks says in this week's Congregationalist in regard to Rev. E. Winchester Donald, D. D.:

"I have known him intimately for years. I have honored his intellect and I have revered the Christian spirit that he has manifested. But now that he should come to this church [Trinity, Boston] and guide it during the years that he is to be our minister gives me great joy. I am glad that you will all have the privilege of the leadership of one whom you can trust and a wisdom which shall again and again open to inquiring souls the way in which they shall turn. There is no man in all our Church that I should rejoice to see standing in this pulpit and entering on a career that I feel God has opened."

Several members of the Andover Band played with the Pentucket Band of Haverhill last night.

The real estate and household furniture belonging to James Donahoe is to be sold by auctioneer Rogers, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 26, at 1 o'clock.

All the arrangements having been satisfactorily made, we are glad to say that we are to have an unusually fine series of Piano Recitals. See advertisement.

Chief engineer Hardy and several of the local company attended the annual ball of the Relief Association of the Lawrence fire department, last Friday night.

Who will be postmaster seems to be the burning question just now. Wm. G. Goldsmith and John J. Sweeney are most prominently mentioned for the position.

A horse belonging to George Gould became frightened at an electric car Tuesday night, and shying, fell down, injuring himself somewhat and damaging the buggy.

There is to be an all day shooting match Thanksgiving Day at David Cunningham's range in West Parish. It will be continued on Saturday afternoons.

There was a pleasant sociable at the Scotland school-house last Friday night, given by the Y. P. S. C. E. of that district. An entertainment, collation and social time made the hours pass in a most enjoyable manner.

The first meeting of the Farmers' Club last Friday night was well attended and very interesting. Dr. Winchester's talk on the care of animals was very instructive and much appreciated.

At Probate Court in Salem, Monday, the will of Janette C. Cable, late of this town, was proved, and an administration was granted on the estate of Frances F. Russell.

The quarterly union gospel temperance meeting will be held at the South Church, Sunday evening, Nov. 27. Rev. Dr. Ella of Boston is expected to be present and deliver an address. He is highly recommended and a large audience is hoped for.

The members of the Garfield Club, L. L. A., listened to a very interesting talk, Tuesday night, by Rev. F. A. Wilson of the Free Church, on Magellan's voyage. Next Tuesday night there will be another open debate, and it is hoped there will be a large attendance of friends and members. The concert which the Club is preparing will be given in the early part of December.

No offer made in our advertising columns for some time is more worthy of consideration than that of Hardy & Cole in regard to the Lowe estate on Main St. In the first place there is a fine opportunity to buy a cheap home. The laying out of a new street has opened up several desirable house lots, which are to be sold cheap and on easy terms. Visit Hardy & Cole and look over the plan, if you are thinking of buying.

Lieut. Wadhams, who lectures in the People's Course next Monday night, is speaking in a brighter vein than ever this season, and is addressing large audiences in every place he appears. The Plattsburg, N. Y. Telegram speaks in the highest terms of his lecture in that place. It said:

"Rare indeed is an opportunity offered to this community to listen to as interesting a lecture as was presented by Lieut. Wadhams. He engaged the closest attention of his audience, while he portrayed the life, duties, and incidents of service in the navy."

West Parish.

Rev. James G. Merrill of Portland, Me., preached at the West Church last Sunday, in exchange with Rev. Mr. Greene.

Nat. A. Cutler of Byfield spent Sunday at his home here.

The ladies' sewing society connected with the Grange had a pleasant gathering at the home of J. Warren Moor yesterday afternoon and evening.

The Juvenile Missionary Society meets at the parsonage to-morrow afternoon at 2:30.

Will B. Cutler is now staying in Lawrence with his uncle, H. Cutler.

The Ladies' Missionary Society is holding a meeting at the parsonage this afternoon. The subject for consideration is "China."

NORTH ANDOVER.

Mr. John E. Ingalls is making repairs on the house of Mr. Joseph Fossett.

A very large number of people from the Centre attended the Democratic parade in Lawrence, Monday night.

Harvest concert at the Congregational Church, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Ricker and daughter of Merrimack were the guests of Mrs. E. G. Manning, a few days last week.

The total vote in town last year was 507; this year 736; increase 139.

The chrysanthemum exhibition at Thornton Bros' greenhouse is attracting people from town.

There will be a special meeting of the Grange Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Colby and Miss M. J. Colby of Gosham, Me., are visiting at Mr. Edmund S. Colby's, this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Sibley have removed from town to their farm in Effingham, N. H.

We are in receipt of a bouquet of sweet peas plucked from beneath the snow last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Cheney have been spending a few days at Weare, N. H.

Tennyson and his poems will form the subject of the meeting of the Epworth League, Wednesday evening.

Witnesses in the case of Keegan versus Hinman appeared in court yesterday afternoon, but the case was not tried. They were summoned to appear again at 11 o'clock this forenoon.

The handsome maple trees in front of Stevens hall have been protected from the horses, which are fastened near them, by wire netting to the height of several feet, and a large mound directly in front of the hall doors is set out to shrubs, which in their season of foliage will be an addition to the grounds.

The alarm of fire last Sunday night was caused by the explosion of a kerosene lamp at Mr. Fred Hartwell's house in Stevens lane. The damage to the roof, although not serious, will be felt considerably by Mr. Hartwell, as he has hardly recovered from the loss of his house and contents last March.

Mr. Boyd Bartlett, principal of the Chelsea High School, was in town Tuesday.

Mrs. Susan and Mr. Joseph H. Stone returned last week from their trip to New Hampshire after a month's absence.

Last Friday, while Fred McInnes was attempting to load a gun with birdshot and powder, the weapon suddenly discharged itself. The powder was blown into his face, entering the skin and injuring one eye so badly as to require the services of a physician. The birdshot, fortunately, was discharged into the ash-heap, near by, thus preventing a more serious injury. This should serve as a reminder to our young men that they cannot be too careful in the handling of fire-arms.

A beautiful collection of chrysanthemums of every size and hue is on exhibition at the conservatory attached to the residence of Hon. M. T. Stevens.

A large number of Republicans from town attended the rally at Lawrence, Monday evening, to listen to the speeches of Reed, Hume, Crapo, and others.

The following officers of Cochichewick Lodge have been appointed: Chaplain, Joseph S. Sanborn; marshal, Geo. L. Burnham; S. S., Nathan Foster; J. S., A. V. Chalk; I. S., William Ayres; organist, Frank D. Foster; Tyler, Frederick Hannaford. The officers will be installed by P. M., George I. Smith.

Two new box cars have been purchased by the street railway company, and one of them is to be run on the Methuen and North Andover division. They are similar to those now running on the Andover line. They have a seating capacity of 24 and are provided with gates to prevent people from boarding the car while in motion.

A Syrian, who is studying at a Pennsylvania college with the intention of returning to his native land, spoke at the missionary meeting in the Congregational vestry, Sunday evening, with regard to the Arabs and Jews.

The mill at Great Falls, N. H., which was until recently owned in partnership by Messrs. Eben and John Sutton, has now been purchased and will be run under the management of the latter, while the North Andover mill will be operated under the management of Mr. Eben Sutton.

Under the provisions of Chap. 406 of the statutes of 1890, the count of ballots in towns having more than 600 voters may begin before balloting is finished, if in the judgment of election officers it is considered advisable or necessary.

The Andover-Exeter foot-ball game will attract many to the former town tomorrow afternoon.

Mrs. Josiah Robinson who has been spending the summer at the Prospect House returned Wednesday, Nov. 2, to her rooms at the Thorndike, Boston.

Mrs. C. P. Morrill left town Monday for a week's visit to relatives in Framingham, Me.

On account of the severe storm there was no session of the schools yesterday afternoon.

The Boston Journal of Commerce contains an item with regard to Davis and Furber's new napping machine which is on exhibition at Mechanics' Fair, Boston.

The Ladies' Circle meets next Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Chester J. Hale has left Stearns' pharmacy and has returned to his home in Worcester.

How are you going to tell a good paint from a poor one by reading the advertisements?

The poor paint may be advertised more extensively than the good one, as there is a larger margin of profit for the manufacturer. It is a difficult question to answer.

The advertisements of the Chilton Paints have one object in view, to familiarize you with the name

Chilton, and connect it in your mind with paint; this done, we want you to inquire, if you can, of those who have used it, how they like it—how it wears—if it is an economical paint to buy—ask all the questions you choose, we will abide by the result and will be pleased to tell you who has used it. Chilton Paint Co., New York or Boston.

THE BIG MAN IN A LITTLE TOWN.

The czar of all the Russias is declared to be an autocrat. Who as a real harsh monarch has his ruling business down quite pat; And there are other mighty men who govern with an iron hand, And who insist on being praised by every subject in the land, But king nor emperor nor czar nor any other potentate, It matters not how vast his realm, how glorious his pomp and state; It matters not how many gems may sparkle in his royal crown, Is half so great a being as the big man in a little town.

The big man in a little town may never boast a royal name Nor noble blood, but what of that? Why should he care from whence he came, Since all the earth is his to sell or trade or give away or rent?

No wonder that this hollow life to him seems rounded with content. All classes and all ages know that he is wonderfully wise And people come from far away to seek his valuable advice.

"He said that in the 'over there' they save for him the brightest crown, For nothing else would satisfy the big man from a little town."

—Chicago Times.

THE WAGON OF THE CANADIAN HALF BREED.

By preference and from lack of other timber the half breed of the northwestern plains constructs his cart of poplar, the characteristic vehicle for all purposes in summer and his sledge or jumper for winter use. With his ax, an auger and his buffalo knife for tools, in a short time he builds a light, stout cart singularly well adapted to his circumstances. As ordinarily constructed it contains, like the harness with which it is attached to the draft animal, not a particle of iron. The wheels are well framed to gether and are about five feet in diameter. The spokes are well driven into the nave, the pieces of the felly are doweled together and the structure dishes after the most approved fashion.

The pony or the bullock which is to supply the motive power is harnessed between two large, light shafts, and upon the axle of the cart a light framework is built to contain the packages which are to form the load. It is lined and floored with thin boards wrought out of trees with the ax, or, more recently, the whip-saw. On such a cart a load of 800 pounds can be carried with safety, as its strength is such that repairs are rarely necessary.—C. A. Kenniston in Century.
